

TORRIANO MEETING HOUSE Sunday 4th June 7.30pm

A poetry reading by

JEHANE MARKHAM & CHERYL MOSKOWITZ

with live musical accompaniment from

NATALIE ROZARIO (cello) & ALASTAIR GAVIN (kbds)

JEHANE MARKHAM is a poet, librettist and dramatist. She has published four collections of poetry and has written for radio, stage and TV. Jehane has written the libretto for several fringe musicals and a children's opera for the Royal Opera House. She has given workshops in primary schools, worked with ex-prisoners in a creative writing workshop in Camden and lectured on the craft of editing poetry at The London Metropolitan University.

"Here's the world brought home to the rag and bone shop of the heart and made welcome, manageable, lovable even, without ceasing to be itself in all its strangeness and grandeur."

Gillian Allnut on Thirty Poems

<http://www.jehanemarkham.co.uk>

CHERYL MOSKOWITZ was born in Chicago and has lived in the UK since the age of 11. Previously an actor and therapist she writes for adults as well as children. Her publications include the autobiographical novel, Wyoming Trail (Granta) and a poetry collection The Girl is Smiling (Circle Time Press). Cheryl also translates the work of Ethiopian poet and writer Bewketu Seyoum.

"Moskowitz's way of seeing the world involves noticing deeply and choosing life, an inspiration..."

Sandee Brawarsky, JW Magazine, Fall 2013

www.cherylmoskowitz.com

TORRIANO MEETING HOUSE

SUNDAY 4 JUNE 7.30 £5/£4

99 TORRIANO AVENUE, LONDON NW5 2RX

TORRIANOMEETINGHOUSE.WORDPRESS.COM